

Australian Government
Infrastructure Australia

Putting Sydney on the Right Track

Michael Deegan
Infrastructure Coordinator
8 June 2010

- The importance of strategy
- Values, ethics and public trust
- COAG cities agenda
- Governance and cultural change
- Positive multiplier effect of action
- Opportunities

The Importance of Strategy

- Defined as “a plan, method, or series of manoeuvres or stratagems for obtaining a specific goal or result”
- Infrastructure Australia’s strategy is built on seven themes:
 - A national broadband network
 - Creation of a true national energy market
 - Competitive international gateways
 - A national freight network
 - Adaptable and secure water supplies
 - Transforming our cities
 - Providing essential indigenous services

Australian Government
Infrastructure Australia

Values, ethics and public trust

COAG cities agenda

- Plans by 2012
- National urban policy

Governance and cultural change

- Two conflicting issues:
 - Infrastructure is difficult to plan across many Councils
 - Voice of community is very important

Positive multiplier effect of action

- Creates confidence
 - Positive business environment
 - Freight Policy
 - Ports Policy
- } Both vital to business confidence and driving down costs – positive impact on mums and dads

Opportunities

- Metropolitan plan
- Transport plan
- Competition in NSW transport

Competition Policy in Transport - Sydney

	Govt Ownership	Customer focussed competition	Service performance	Cost of current position	Community Angst
Hire Cars	No	Partial	Reasonable	High	No
Taxis	No	No	Poor @ peak	High	Yes
Buses	Yes & No	No	Don't know	High	Yes
Tow Trucks	No	Partial	Reasonable	High	No
Roads	Yes (in the main)	No	Poor @ peak	High	No
Rail	Yes	No	Poor @ peak	High	Yes
Ports	Yes	No	Low by intl standard	High	No
Ferries	Yes	No	Low	High	Yes
Co-ord	Improving	No	Improving	High	Yes

Alice: would you tell me which way I ought to go from here?

Cheshire Cat: that depends on where you want to get to.

Alice: I don't much care where.

Cat: then it doesn't matter which way you go.

